

BEST-IN-CLASS

Traulsen is honored to be recognized “Best in Class” again in 2017 by foodservice operators and dealers!

Foodservice Equipment and Supplies Magazine (FE&S) has announced its annual Best in Class Awards recipients. The results: Operators, consultants and dealers have again recognized Traulsen refrigeration equipment “Best in Class” based on quality, value, design and aesthetics, inventory and availability, service and support, sales representation and information availability.

What inspires us to be the best? You!

As a proud supporter of foodservice professionals everywhere, Traulsen is dedicated to supporting those who are not only passionate about creating great food, but are inspired by the people they serve and come to know on a daily basis.

Likewise, it is our mission to provide refrigeration equipment that foodservice professionals can trust to work hard in the toughest kitchen environments, empowering them to focus on what they love most—creating great food for great people. All at a lower total cost of ownership.

For more information about Best-in-Class equipment from Traulsen, visit Traulsen.com.

